Technology Helps Golf Management Students Up Their Game

When an institution is one of only 16 in the country with a PGA-accredited golf management program — and the only one in Florida — it's only fitting that its facility is state-of-the-art and built to drive success for every student. That is exactly the case at Florida Gulf Coast University, where the bachelor's degree program is tailored to equip future golf professionals for success in a variety of industry roles.

Students take classes in Sugden Hall, where they gain hands-on experience using specialized technology to refine their knowledge and skills. The building houses the Swing Performance Lab, Golf Club Fitting Lab and a model merchandise shop. The Swing Performance Lab includes two full-swing hitting bays, each featuring Trackman launch monitors that uses radar, infrared and high
